BIO

Dr. Jegasothy specializes in cosmetic dermatology and is Associate Clinical Professor of Dermatology at the University of Miami Miller School of Medicine. Dr. Jegasothy founded and has operated Miami Skin Institute since 2000.

The Miami Skin Institute is located on San Lorenzo Ave in Merrick Park, Coral Gables. Dr. Jegasothy specializes in cosmetic Dermatology and is particularly interested in soft tissue augmentation and wrinkle reduction, as well as evolving laser technology. As Associate Clinical Professor of Dermatology at the University of Miami Miller School of Medicine, Dr. Jegasothy teaches these “minimally invasive” cosmetic procedures in a senior resident clinic.

Born in Sri Lanka and raised in Pennsylvania, Dr. Jegasothy received a B.A. in Biological Anthropology from Harvard College and subsequently her medical degree from the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine. She underwent her postgraduate training at Yale–New Haven Hospital and University of Miami / Jackson Memorial Medical Center.

Dr. Jegasothy lectures frequently at national and local Dermatology meetings, as well as at various charity events in South Florida. She has been on the Editorial Panels of Cosmetic Dermatology and Skin & Aging for a number of years. Her professional affiliations include being a Diplomate of the American Board of Dermatology and a Fellow of the American Academy of Dermatology. She served on the Board of Directors of the Florida Society of Dermatology and Dermatological Surgery from 2003–2006, where she was able to participate in local and statewide legislative efforts for the specialty of Dermatology. Most recently, Dr. Jegasothy has served on various task forces of the American Society for Dermatologic Surgery (ASDS). Dr. Jegasothy also has worked as a consultant for various pharmaceutical companies throughout the course of her career, and is the source of innumerable quotations in the local and national fashion press.
