Meeting Description

The Annual Meeting of the Georgia Society of Dermatology and Dermatologic Surgery is an activity designed for Dermatologists, Dermatologic Surgeons, Dermatopathologists and other interested healthcare providers. The activity is presented in a live medium format, using didactic, case based and interactive instructional methods. The purpose is to provide the latest advancements in diagnosis and treatment, and medical issues important to the evolving practice of dermatology, with a specific concentration on the most advanced medical and surgical treatment options within the various dermatologic specialties. The GSDDS CME committee is made up of academicians as well as private practice physicians, and strives to create an activity that is educational and informative using both nationally renowned speakers as well as our own physician members. The faculty is chosen based on the needs assessment based on expert data derived from practitioner interactions, along with a review of past planned programs and activity evaluation summaries. We also include a resident abstract competition that includes the participants from Emory University and Georgia Health Sciences University Residency programs. A scientific activity of this format has been successfully executed at the GSDDS Annual Meeting for over 30 years. Program planning for this meeting begins in October and continues through the months until the meeting date.

Purpose

The purpose of the GSDDS CME Program is to provide accredited continuing medical education activities to inform and educate the dermatologist physician. The program will provide a mechanism by which its constituents can improve competency, maintain board certification, and cultivate lifelong learning.
